

Reading Choice Board

Directions: Try to do at least 3 learning activities from the board below for the week. Please choose one activity from each row. You are welcome to post your responses on Seesaw.

Read a fiction or nonfiction book. Pretend you are interviewing the author. Write five questions you have for the author.	Read a fictional book. Write a friendly letter to the character in your story. Write about what you would like to ask or tell the character.	Read a nonfiction book. As you read the book, you are going on a text feature hunt! Make a list of some of the text features you noticed as you read the book. How did the text features help give you information about the topic?
Click here to read about spiders (or find one on Epic).  Write three facts about spiders.  Extension: Create a new spider. Name it, describe it, and draw it!	Adjectives-Describing words- List 8 adjectives. Design a house that uses all of your adjectives. Label your house with these adjectives. Then write a description of your house. Don't forget capital letters and periods.	Nouns-person, place or thing: List 10 common nouns and their plurals (ex:cat-cats). Now write 4 sentences using any of the 4 nouns. Draw illustrations to match.
Illustrate a picture representing the problem from a story you've read. Be sure to use details and captions in your illustration to show the problem and help explain it.	Click here to read about weather (or find one on Epic).  Write about a special rainstorm. What would be falling from the clouds? You choose! Be creative! :)	Why do you think the author wrote the book you are reading? Give three reasons to support your answer.
